Conferencing Services: Reducing the Need for In-Person Meetings

Today's businesses need to communicate with employees, partners, customers and suppliers around the globe. Even companies that don't do business globally may have regional offices, satellite offices and employees working from home. You need an efficient method of bringing these diverse people and locations together to collaborate.

With conferencing services, you can reduce travel expenses while empowering people across locations to meet any time, from virtually anywhere.

Improve productivity with conferencing

Audio conference services from AT&T can be a productive, cost-effective alternative to in-person meetings, training sessions and presentations. You can work with customers, suppliers and partners wherever they are located, broadening your reach, and tapping into new markets. The AT&T Global IP Network provides a scalable, reliable experience for audio conferencing customers from AT&T.

Dependable conferencing services help you focus on your meeting, not the tools you're using to communicate. Conferencing is easy to use, and is available 24x7 to help you:

Focus on what you need to say, not the tools you're using to communicate.

- Reach beyond office walls to create a meeting space at your existing location
- Meet for a quick catch up or on a recurring basis
- Reduce travel and meeting room costs
- Bring key players together in real time

Make your business more efficient

Conferencing services can:

- Reduce disruptions caused by weather emergencies
- Decrease office space costs by promoting telecommuting
- Support remote workers by providing a simple method to participate in recurring meetings
- Provide an efficient and cost-effective method for training remote employees
- Save executive travel time with live company-wide broadcasts, available for later playback

Overview

Conferencing for the Enterprise

Designed to meet the needs of today's geographically and virtually dispersed work environments, AT&T Connect differs from other conferencing products by delivering an enterprise-class application that transforms voice, web and video conferencing from multiple point tools into one core communication product that can be given to everyone in your company, like email. This seamless, real-time conferencing solution offers integration with mobility devices. This approach:

- Extends the proven cost savings and productivity benefits of conferencing to all employees in the company, not just a select few.

- Empowers innovation throughout the organization, enabling employees to create new ways to speed time to market, improve quality and strengthen customer relationships.

- Offers an IP based solution which affords a migration platform for unified communications solutions

Additionally, our industry leading conferencing and collaboration solution meets your needs with

- Enterprise-class scalability, reliability and performance

- Unparalleled bandwidth efficiency

- Enterprise-grade security
